

LIST OF TABLES

Table Number	Subject	Page
1	Distribution of household and population by religion and sex according to the level of monthly income	26
2	Distribution of children population (0-14 years) by age, sex and religion of the household	27
3	Proportion of infant population in households	27
4	Income level, sex and literacy among the Hindus	28
5	Income level, sex and literacy among the Muslims	28
6	Number of school going children (5-14 years) in non intervened slums	29
7	Proportion of children in the age group 5-14 years attending school according to levels of Income	29
8	Distribution of households of different income and religious groups who have migrated to the slums	30
9	Distribution of households of different income and religious groups with causes of migration	31
10	Distribution of adult and child wage earners in the households of non intervened slums	32
11	Distribution of the earning members of the households according to the organised and unorganised sectors	32
12	Distribution of household and population by religion and sex according to the level of monthly income	36
13	Distribution of the children population (0 to 14 years) by age, sex and religion of the household	36
14	Proportion of infant population in the intervened slums	37
15	Income level, sex and literacy among the Hindus	37
16	Income level, sex and literacy among the Muslims	38
17	Number of school going children (5-14 yrs) in intervened slums	38
18	Distribution of households of different income and religion who have migrated to the slums	39
19	Distribution of migrated households of different income and religious groups with causes of migration	40
20	Distribution of the adult and child wage earners of the household of intervened slums	40
21	Distribution of the earning members of the households according to the organised and unorganised sectors	41
22	Distribution of respondents according to monthly income, religion and literacy	44
23	Level of education of wives as compared to that of the husbands	45
24	Distribution of respondent mothers according to ages at marriage, classified by income, religion and literacy	47
25	Table contrasting the individual opinion with that of the community on the age at marriage suitable for girls	48
26	Distribution of respondents classified according to their belief and knowledge on the causes of pregnancy	49
27	Distribution of respondents classified according to her opinion as to whether	50

Table Number	Subject	Page
	it is necessary or not to follow cultural norms or social dictum to beget a child (in %)
28	Number of living children per eligible couple classified by income and religion	52
29	Mean Standard Deviation and Median interval between two successive childbirths (in years except for Standard Deviation)	54
30	Distribution of respondent mothers supporting the need for antenatal Care	57
31	Respondents supporting delivery by trained dais (local birth attendants)	59
32	Opinion of respondent mothers regarding delivery by male doctors with reasons.	60
33	Proportions of responses towards post natal care by religion and literacy.	61
34	Proportions of mothers who availed of antenatal during the last pregnancy.	62
35	Places of deliveries of mother by religion	63
36	Factors leading to hospital confinements	64
37	Factors leading to home confinements	65
38	Respondents relying on family planning programmes with reasons according to literacy	66
39	Factors influencing the eligible couples to use family planning methods (%)	67
40	Proportion of wives agreeable to adopt permanent methods of family planning.	68
41	Reasons influencing wives to take recourse to permanent methods of family planning	68
42	Factors leading to third conceptions	70
43	Proportion of mothers having children between 1 to 2 years by religion and literacy.	73
44	Children with complete and incomplete immunisation	73
45	Respondent mothers attending different immunisation centers by literacy	74
46	Responses of mothers with respect to specific antigens	76
47	Knowledge of mothers about malnutrition	80
48	Prioritisation of nutritious food items (percentage) in proportions of responses	83
49	Proportion of respondents having any knowledge about diarrhoea	87
50	Effect of literacy in administering home made remedies during diarrhoea	89
51	Distribution of respondents classified according to monthly income, religion and literacy	92
52	Distribution of the level of education of the respondent wife as compared to her husband	94
53	Distribution of respondent mothers according to the ages of marriage, classified by income, religion and literacy	97
54	Distribution of respondent mothers according to their opinion on the suitable age of marriage.	98
55	Table contrasting the individual opinions with that of the community on the suitable age of marriage for girls in the non intervened and intervened slums	99
56	Distribution of respondents classified according to their belief/ knowledge on the causes of pregnancy	101
57	Distribution of respondents offering her opinion as to whether she agrees on the need to follow social dicta and cultural norms to beget a child (in %)	103
58	Number of living children per eligible couple classified by income and religion	104

Table Number	Subject	Page
	in intervened slums
59	Mean (in years) and Standard Deviation between two successive childbirths (in years except for Standard Deviation)	106
60	Distribution of respondent mothers supporting the need for antenatal care	108
61	Respondents supporting delivery by a dai (local birth attendant)	111
62	Opinion of respondent mothers regarding delivery by a male doctor with reasons	112
63	Proportion of responses towards post natal facilities by religion and literacy	113
64	Proportions of mothers actually availing of antenatal services during the last pregnancy of the mother	114
65	Proportion of deliveries according to places of confinement	116
66	Factors leading to hospital confinements	117
67	Factors leading to home confinements	117
68	Factors influencing eligible couples to use family planning methods (in %)	120
69	Proportion of wives agreeable to adopt permanent methods of Family Planning	120
70	Proportion of mothers having children between 1 to 2 years by religion and literacy.	126
71	Children with complete and incomplete immunisation	127
72	Reasons for believing in immunisation	128
73	Responses of mothers with respect to specific antigens	129
74	Knowledge of mothers about malnutrition	132
75	Proportion of mothers opining on the need to include animal protein and vegetable in food (in %)	136
76	Reasons for gender bias	137
77	Proportion of respondents having any knowledge about diarrhoea	143
78	Response of mothers regarding causes of diarrhoea in the intervened area (In percentage)	144
79	Different methods of treatment of diarrhoea in the intervened slums	147