

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Right at the outset, I take the opportunity to acknowledge, with a heart full of gratitude and thankfulness, my indebtedness to my guide and supervisor, Dr. Pran Kumar Mukherjee, Professor (Rt). Department of English, North Bengal University, who captured my imagination by his learning and erudition. The present work would scarcely be completed without his very enriching guidance.

To Dr. Amaresh Dutta, formerly Professor and Head of the Department of English, Gauhati University and Chief Editor, Encyclopedia of Indian Literatures and now Professor Emeritus, Gauhati University. I am particularly grateful for his constant inspiration.

I would be grossly failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to Dr. Tapadhir Bhattacharjee, Reader, Department of Bengali, North Bengal University, but for whose help it would be difficult for me to complete the work.

I am also grateful to my friends Sri Nirmal Kanti Bhattacharjee, Secretary, Sahitya Akademi, Calcutta, Sri Bizoy Bhusan Das, Department of Botany, Gurucharan College, Silchar, and Dr. Amalendu Bhattacharjee, Department of Bengali, Gurucharan College, Silchar, all of whom inspired me and helped me in various ways. I am indebted to Dr. Sankar Das Purkaystha who helped me immensely by sending from England some valuable books. I acknowledge my indebtedness to the librarians of the Gauhati and the North Bengal

Universities and National Library, Calcutta, for their permission to use the libraries.

I am also thankful to the authorities of the North Bengal University for granting me permission to work as a research scholar and to submit this thesis to the University.
