

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Manas Dasgupta, Professor of Economics, North Bengal University for making scholarly and incisive comments on the various drafts with fortitude and patience and providing valuable suggestions on the entire manuscript. It is for his able guidance and blessings that I have been able to complete this research-work in time. His rare personality has always been an inspiration; and in reality he is more than a guide to me.

I am beholden to Prof. J. N. Chakraborty, Deptt. of Commerce, North Bengal University, Dr. R. C. Sharma, Kashi Vidyapith, Dr. P. K. Ghosh, Delhi School of Economics and Shri B. K. Bajpaiyee, Ex-Registrar, North Bengal University for their encouragements and valuable suggestions at the initial stage of my present study.

I express my sincere gratitudes to Dr. K. N. Chatterjee, the present Vice Chancellor; Dr. S. N. Roy, the Ex-Dean of the faculty of Arts and Commerce, Dr. T. K. Chatterjee, the present Registrar, and Dr. S. L. Dutta, the present Development Officer of North Bengal University for giving me the permission to do my research-work under my revered supervisor Dr. Manas Dasgupta in the Deptt. of Economics, North Bengal University. In this respect, I am also thankful to Dr. Malay Roy and Prof. Ajit Roy of the Deptt. of Commerce, North Bengal University.

I am specially indebted to Dr. Arif A Waqif, Chairman, Economic Area, Administrative Staff College of India, Hyderabad for providing me with a copy of his publication entitled "Industrial Cooperation in South Asia : An Exploratory Study of Bangladesh and India" in Mimeo in free of cost. I am also indebted to Dr. Ashoke Sengupta, Professor, Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, New Delhi and Dr. Durgadas Bhattacharyay, Professor, Dhaka University, Bangladesh for having discussion on various aspects of the work.

I am grateful to the staff and authorities of UN Information Centre Library, New Delhi; TDA Information & Documentation Centre Library, New Delhi; Indian Institute of Foreign Trade Library, New Delhi; Indian Council of World Affairs Library, New Delhi; Institute for Defence & Analysis Library, New Delhi; Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce & Industry Library, New Delhi; National Library, Calcutta; Commercial Library, Calcutta; ICSSR Library, Calcutta; Bangladesh Deputy High Commission Information Centre Library, Calcutta; Bangladesh Bank Library, Dhaka; and North Bengal University Library for providing me the permissions to use the repositories for data collection. Further I am grateful to the Ministry of Commerce, Govt. of India and the Commercial Section of Indian High Commission Office in Dhaka for providing me with some necessary documents and information.

My special thanks are due to the UGC for providing me a 3-Year long-term fellowship under FIP scheme during the 7th Plan Period and to the authority of Islampur College, West Dinajpur, my employer, for granting Study Leave to do the work.

I would like to note my thanks to the Bharat Sevashram Sangha for providing me the accommodation in their Guest House in New Delhi; National Library and ICSSR for providing me the accommodations in their Hostel and Guest House in Calcutta; and the Academy for Planning and Development (Govt. of Bangladesh) for providing me the same in their Guest House in Dhaka during the course of my data collections.

Further, I gratefully acknowledge the cooperations received from Prof. Partha Chakraborty, Cooch Behar College, Shri Partha Roy, Ex-student, Deptt. of Economics, North Bengal University, and Shri Subodh Ch. Dey, Staff, Syndicate Bank, Calcutta at different stages of my research-work. I would also like to thank Shri Goutam Das of Ashrampara, Siliguri who made it possible to bring the idea into the being by typing the manuscript neatly with great care.

Finally, I wish to express my deep sense of indebtedness to all my family-members and well-wishers from where I draw my spiritual inspirations to complete the work in time.
