

While writing this thesis I have incurred indebtedness to a number of persons. One of the largest debts is to Dr. P.K. Mukherjee, Professor of English, North Bengal University, for his having been kindly consulted to supervise my work. He has been of immense help to me at every step. Without his apt guidance and assistance, the work would not have seen the light of the day.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to late Dr. S.P. Bhargava, former Head of the Dept. of English, Patna University, for his generous help rendered to me all along.

I place on record my gratefulness to all the colleagues of my college, especially Prof. B.K. Saha, for all the help and their encouragement.

Now can I omit to mention my younger brother whose gentle but firm and steady persuasion was an encouragement and inducement for the sustained effort that the writing of a thesis requires.

I am grateful to all the staff of British Council Library, Calcutta, National Library, Calcutta and North Bengal University Library, who always helped me.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to Mr. Sanjib Kumar Saha for all the pains he took in typing this thesis.
