

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

I take this opportunity to thank my supervisor, Professor T.K. Roychoudhury, Department of History, University of North Bengal, to whom I am greatly indebted for his scholarly guidance and constant encouragement which helped to see the completion of this research work.

I am grateful to Rev. Mother Damien, Principal Loreto College, Darjeeling, for bearing all the inconveniences caused by my absence in college and for always giving me the encouragement and support, which I needed. Her prayers and good wishes have seen me through my work for which I thank her most sincerely.

I wish to express my gratitude to the University Grants Commission for the Teacher-fellowship which provided me with the much needed leave for a year and the financial aid to complete my research. I thank Dr. S.L. Datta, the Development Officer, University of North Bengal and his office, the Registrar and his office, the Finance Officer and his office, University of North Bengal. I would like to extend my heart-felt thanks to Dr. Chanda Chakraborty and Dr. Ananda Gopal Ghose, Department of History, University of North Bengal.

I am equally grateful to the Director and officials of the National Archives, New Delhi and also to the Director, Assistant Director and his staff of the State Archives, Calcutta whose willing co-operation was valuable in gathering information from the original documents. I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the National Library, Calcutta, and its officials for making it possible for me to use the Main Library as well as the Annexe which has some important original documents.

My sincere thanks to the officials of the Darjeeling District Record Room for making available to me whatever documents I could use for my work. The District Magistrate's Library and its Librarian cannot be forgotten by me for lending me some important reports to look through. I also owe my thanks to Mr. Chettri of the D.M.'s office for lending me some important books. The Deshbandhu District Library and its Librarian, Mr. Allay, have also been of great help for which I am grateful.

I owe my gratitude to Mrs. L.Tshering, the Head Clerk, Loreto College, Darjeeling, for helping me with my fellowship papers, Mrs. Amrita Darnal for helping me in typing the draft of my research work and also Mrs. Kanta Pradhan. My sincerest thanks are also expressed to Prof. Sadanand Singh, Head of the Department of Hindi, Presidency College, Calcutta, and his family for their hospitality during my stay in Calcutta. I also thank Mr. Chhetri and his staff of the Gorkha Welfare Centre, New Delhi, who made my stay comfortable.

Friends like Rev. Mother Francis Michael can never be forgotten whose sincere prayers and words of encouragement coming from as far as Ireland have been a source of strength and support through the arduous months. I sincerely thank her for the same.

I am also thankful to Miss Rene Rozario from St. Paul's School for her help and good wishes, and my brother, Dr. G.P. Ojha for his help and good wishes.

Last but not the least I wish to express my heart-felt thanks to my wife Neelam and my son Prateeq who managed the home-front leaving me alone to complete the work. I owe a great deal to both of them for all the moral support they gave me.
