

A C K N O W L E D G E M E N T

The present thesis embodies research investigations carried out by the author in the Department of Chemistry, University of North Bengal, Darjeeling, India.

The author takes this opportunity to record his deep sense of gratitude to Dr. S.N. Bose, M.Sc., Ph.D., Reader in Chemistry, University of North Bengal for his constant inspiration, keen interest and continuous guidance throughout the investigation.

He would like to thank Prof. H. Ageta, Showa College of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Tokyo, Japan for his helpful discussions along with some spectral arrangements.

The author is also grateful to late Prof. W. Klyne and Dr. P.M. Scopes — both of Westfield College, University of London, UK and Prof. G. Sneath, Ruhr University, Bochum, Germany for their helpful discussion and for kindly arranging some CD spectra.

The author's thanks are due to Dr. T. Kikuchi, Professor of Natural Product Chemistry, Toyama Medical and Pharmaceutical University, Toyama, Japan for authentic sample of Pachysandiol-A diacetate, Prof. C. Djerassi, Department of Chemistry, Stanford University, USA for authentic sample of thurberogenin and dihydro thurberogenin and Prof. B. Talapatra, Dept. of Chemistry, Calcutta University, Calcutta, India for a gift of Cerin.

(II)

The author is thankful to the Heads, Regional Sophisticated Instrumentation Centres, CDRI, Lucknow and IIT, Bombay for kindly arranging most of the NMR, mass and GLC analyses and a few CD measurements. IR spectra were kindly recorded by Dr. A. Mazumdar of our Department.

The author is indebted to Prof. A.K. Ghosh, Prof. S.C. Ray, Dr. B.P. Pradhan, Reader in Chemistry and Dr. B. Basu, Lecturer in Chemistry — all of the University of North Bengal for various help.

The author is thankful to Dr. S. Chakraborty, Sri S. Nag, Sri T. Pandit, Sri B. Chanda and many other research scholars of the University of North Bengal, particularly to those in the department of chemistry for their various help during the entire period of investigation.

The author is thankful to the authorities of the Department of Chemistry, University of North Bengal for laboratory facilities etc.

Finally, the author expresses his gratitude to his beloved parents and wife for their constant inspiration.
