

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my heart felt gratitude to my honourable teacher and supervisor Dr. M.M. Jana, Reader, Department of Geography and Applied Geography, University of North Bengal, India for his valuable guidance at the time of preparation of this thesis. It would have been quite impossible to complete my thesis without his expert assistance and sincere co-operation.

I am grateful to Mr. Sunil Kumar Majumdar, executive officer of Barasat Municipality, for his co-operation at the time of collecting data and information. I am indebted to Mr. Swapan Banerjee and other members of the staff of Barasat Municipality for providing me necessary information regarding my study.

My sincere thanks go to Mr. Asim Roy of Indian Medical Association, Barasat Chapter, for his enlightened help in interpreting data regarding the health picture of the study area.

I convey my sincere thanks to the officers of the National Library, the Directorate of Census Operation, the Survey of India, the District Library, Uttar 24 Parganas, the Calcutta Metropolitan Development Authority (C.M.D.A.), the Barasat Gandhi School, the District Hospital (Barasat) and the Telephone Exchange (Barasat) for providing data and information.

I am also indebted to revered Swami Jayananda, Secretary, Rama Krishna Mission Boys' Home, Rahara, Uttar 24 Parganas.

I am grateful to Mr. Swapan Mukherjee, State Electricity Board, Barasat for his co-operation at the time of preparation of this thesis.

Dr. Amiya Kumar Biswas, Dr. Debabrata Ghosh, my distinguished colleagues, Mrs. Krishna Jana of Siliguri and Mr. Sujit Bhattacharjee have rendered valuable assistance in different stages of writing this Ph.D. dissertation.

I shall be failing in my duties if I do not mention the names of Mr. Barun Dutta and Mr. Dibakar Mukherjee for their painstaking approach towards typing the thesis with the help of computer.

Last but not the least, I am grateful to my wife Mala Thakur Chakraborty who always inspired me to carry on my research work and thanks to my son Mayukh and daughter Mandrita who helped me with their sacrifice and love during preparation of my thesis.
