

Acknowledgement

I would first like to express my profound gratitude to Prof. Anup Kumar Datta, Professor (Retd.), Department of Political Science, North Bengal University, under whose supervision and inspiration the research study has been executed. I feel very happy to be one of his disciples almost at the endpoint of his academic life. My sincere thanks go to Prof. Debes Chandra Deb, Professor (Retd.), Department of Zoology, North Bengal University, for sharing valuable information and knowledge on ecosophy, Gaia hypothesis, global environmental change and animal behaviour. Similarly, I thank Prof. Anita Bagchi, Professor, Department of History, North Bengal University, for her continuous support and motherly affection that made me mentally strong. I am obliged to Dr. Anil Kumar Mohapatra, Lecturer, Department of Political Science, Utkal University, Odisha, for providing necessary guidance and information to conduct a survey at the POSCO project site in Kujang and Erasama block of Jagatsinghpur district, Odisha. My thanks are due for Prof. Kanak Kanti Bagchi, Professor, Department of Economics, North Bengal University, for his valuable suggestions to gather data through spot visits at the target areas. Thanks to North Eastern Social Research Centre, Guwahati, Assam, for few publications that contain valuable information and statistics on development and tribal displacement in India in general and North-East India in particular. I am highly indebted to late Prof. Pradip Kumar Sengupta, Professor, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University, for the preparation of the blueprint of this research study.

I owe many thanks to Prof. Maya Ghosh, Professor, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University, for providing available opportunity to pursue Ph. D. from Department of Political Science, North Bengal University. I would like to record my sincere gratitude to Prof. Soumitra De, Professor, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University, for his notable advice to develop this research study. I am equally obliged to Prof. Manas Chakrabarty, Professor (Retd.),

Department of Political Science, North Bengal University; Prof. M. Yasin, Professor, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University; Prof. Arun Kanti Jana, Professor, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University; Sir Dyutish Chakraborty, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University; Dr. Ranjita Chakraborty, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University; Dr. Ramesh Dural, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University, for intellectual sustenance that I have received time to time.

Earnest thanks to Dr. Debabrata Basu, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, P. D. Women's College, Jalpaiguri; Mr. Abhijit Mazumdar, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Siliguri College, Siliguri; Dr. John Breakmas Tirkey, Associate Professor, Department of Sociology, Kalipada Ghosh Tarai Mahavidyalaya, Bagdogra, for their valuable opinion on India's development policy, impact of modern economic developmental project, government's rehabilitation and resettlement plan and environmental governance.

I am truly grateful to Mr. Tanwir Arshed, Doctoral Fellow, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University, for his immense contribution on my life for building career. I also thank Mr. Vismadeb Roy and Mr. Abhiranjan Barman, Research Scholars, Department of Political Science, North Bengal University, for providing their collections on social movement theory and gender studies. Many thanks to Mr. Amit Chanda, an active Member of Cooch Behar Mountaineers Club, Cooch Behar, for sharing his experience that he gathered during survey in tribal areas of many parts of India. I also thank library staffs, North Bengal University, for their kind cooperation during library work.

Last but not the least; I convey my humble obligation towards my parents for their support, patience and encouragement.

Avijit Sutradhar