

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I acknowledge

With gratitude the invaluable guidance and sincere help of my Supervisor, Prof. J. Kar, Professor of History, North Bengal University for whom I could complete my Ph.D. dissertation, in spite of the many difficulties I had to face in the distant place of my work in the troublesome North-East Indian region. I have taken extensive extracts and references from his many research works — books and papers to enrich my thesis for which I acknowledge my immense debt to him.

I am also thankful to Dr. A.G. Ghosh, Head of the Deptt. of History, North Bengal University, Librarian and Staff, North Bengal University, Executive Director and Staff, Netaji Research Bureau, Director and Staff, National Library, Calcutta, Director and Staff, West Bengal State Archives, Calcutta, National Archives of India, New Delhi — for their positive help to me in the working out my research project.

I also acknowledge with thanks the financial assistance to me of the University Grants Commission, North Eastern Regional Office, Guwahati, under the Faculty Improvement Programme in its IXth Plan to complete my research work.

I am also thankful to my parents and wife for giving their inspiration for completing this work at the cost of their sacrifice for the sake of my future prospects. My little son, Tanmay also deserves mention in this connection as ^{the} source of my delight which helped me to carry on my work.

J. Kakati