

C O N T E N T S

	Page
Acknowledgement
List of Tables
List of Graph
List of Map
CHAPTER - I
Introduction	1-32
CHAPTER - II
Evolution Of the Concept of Divorce Under The Ancient Hindu Law	33-52
CHAPTER -III
Divorce Under the Hindu Marriage Act, 1955 - A Critical Assessment	53-127
Termination of Marriage: Divorce	65
1. Matrimonial Cause : Adultery	67
2. Matrimonial Cause: Cruelty	76
3. Matrimonial Cause: Desertion	81
4. Matrimonial Cause: Unsoundness of mind	87
5. Matrimonial Cause: Other grounds for divorce:
A. Conversion	94
B. Leprosy	99
C. Venereal disease	101
D. Sanyas	105
E. Presumption of death	106
6. Matrimonial Cause: Sustained judicial separation and non restitution	108
7. Matrimonial Cause: Special ground of divorce by the wife:	113
i) Bigamy	113
ii) Sexual and unnatural offences	115
iii) Upholding the wife's claim of maintenance	116

	Page
iv) Repudiation of marriage by the bride	116
8. Matrimonial Cause: Divorce by mutual consent	117
Conclusion	123

CHAPTER - IV

Divorce Cases Between 1914-1990- A reconnoiter	123-184
Phase I : Period from 1914-1954	130
Phase II : Period from 1955-1990	144
Object of the Hindu Marriage Act	145
The Application of the Act	145
The Extent of the Act	147
I. Review of the total number of Cases from 1955-1990	148
Zonal analysis	154
II. Review of the grounds used frequently
i) Allegations by the parties to the Suit	162
a. Cruelty	162
b. Desertion	163
c. Adultery	164
ii) Trends	165
1. Appellants	165
2. The decision making	166
3. Inclination of the decision	168
Relation between duration of marriage and divorce	177
Divorce and presence of children	178
Divorce and Employment	178

(iii)

	Page
Conclusion	180
Summary of findings	181

CHAPTER - V

Divorce Cases Under Calcutta High Court In The State of West Bengal (1955-1990)	185-205
I. A review of the total number of cases in West Bengal	185
II. Review of the grounds used frequently	187
i) Cruelty: the most commonly used ground	189
ii) Desertion: More frequent in West Bengal	189
iii) Adultery: A quiet presence	191
III. Allegations By the Parties to the Suit	191
a. Allegation of cruelty	193
b. Adultery	194
c. Allegation of desertion	195
d. Number of male and female appellants	195
e. Divorce-decreed, declined	197
f. For whom the decision goes	197
Subsistence of Marriage	200
Employment Factor	201
Presence of children	201
The Findings in brief	203

CHAPTER - VI

Divorce Cases At the Darjeeling District Court Between 1984-1990- An Analysis	206-234
I. The total number of Cases in a nutshell	207
II. Review Of the Grounds Used Frequently	210
A. Cruelty: looms large in Divorce Suits	211
B. The Allegers of Cruelty	213
C. Adultery: Used in lesser number	214
D. The Allegers of adultery	215
E. Desertion: Occupies a second place	216
F. The Allegers of Desertion	217
G. The Petitioner	218
H. The Trends in the decision making
1. Decree Vs Decline	219
2. Whom does the decision favour	221
I. Sound of Silence : Uncontested Exparte divorces	223
J. Subsistence of Marriage	224
K. The Innocent third party^t in divorce proceedings	226
Findings in a nutshell	232

CHAPTER - VII

The Divorce as a person, not a case (An analysis of the Empirical study conducted in the Siliguri Sub-divisional Town of West Bengal)	235-317
I. The Background history	236
A. Age	237
B. Economic background	238
1. Educational Qualification	238
2. Occupational Background	241
3. The Financial Position	243
4. The Caste Factor	247
C. Social Background	248
II. Marriage	249
III. Marital Conflict	256
A. Adultery	258
1. Adultery As Bigamy And Extra-marital affair	258
2. Adultery in different income groups	259
3. Adultery and literacy rate	261
4. Adultery - Sex ratio and Age factors	262
B. Cruelty
1. Cruelty : Its various forms	265
2. Cruelty In Different Income groups	267
3. Cruelty And Literacy Rate	268
4. Cruelty: Sex Ratio And Age Factors	269

	Page
D. Desertion	270
1. Desertion - Its different types	271
2. Desertion In Different Income Group	272
3. Desertion And Education	273
4. Desertion : Age and Sex Factors	274
E. The Proposer, The Petitioner And the Procedure	275
IV. Attitude To Divorce And Remarriage	285
1. Attitude To Divorce	285
2. Attitude To Remarriage	292
V. Post Divorce Status And Comments	296
a. Post Divorce status	296
The Comments and Suggestions	305
Summary	309

CHAPTER-VIII

The Sequel of Marital Bondage: Questions of Maintenance, Custody And Property	319
Part I - Maintenance/Alimony	319
I. Alimony/Maintenance in Ancient Hindu law	322
II. Alimony or Maintenance in Modern Hindu Law	326
A. Maintenance/Alimony Pendente lite	327
1. The claimant	328
2. The Stage at which the claim is to be made	331
3. Grant of claim-Discretion of the Court	332
4. Commencement, duration And Quantum	333
B. Permanent Maintenance/Alimony	336
1. Relation to doctrine of Sincerity	343

	Page
2. The Claimant	345
3. Discretion of the Court	350
4. Commencement, Duration and Quantum	351
C. Maintenance Under Hindu Adoptions And Maintenance Act, 1956 compared with the provisions under Hindu Marriage Act 1955	354
D. Maintenance Under Section 125 of Code of Criminal Procedure - A Summary Procedure	356
E. An Analysis of Maintenance Cases Between 1914-1990	360
1. 1914 to 1954	360
2. The period between 1955-1990	362
3. The period between 1984-1990	366
F. A Survey of the Maintenance Cases: In the Court of Sub-Divisional Judicial Magistrate At Siliguri Sub-Divisional Town	368
Part II - Custody And Single Parenting of Children	374
A. Custody of children	374
B. Single Parenting	389
Part III - Disposal of Property	394
1. Disposal of Property Under Dharmashastras	394
2. Disposal of Property Under Present Hindu Law	396
Part IV Disintegration of Family	399
Summary	403

CHAPTER - IX

	Page
Conclusion	408-440
APPENDIX I	441-445
APPENDIX II	446-464
APPENDIX III	465-468
APPENDIX IV	469-480
APPENDIX V	481-485
APPENDIX VI	486-505
BIBLIOGRAPHY	506-521