

Contents

	Page No.
Acknowledgement	(i) – (ii)
Preface	(ii) – (iv)
Chapter I: Introduction	1-18
1.1. Prologue	1
1.2. Review of Literature	4
1.3. Scope of the Study	8
1.4. Plan of the Thesis	8
1.5. Research Methodology, Variables, Time Period and Data Sources	9
References	12-18
Chapter II: Introduction of Sample Countries	19-47
2.1. Introduction	19
2.2. Experiences of Sample Countries: Brief history of market reforms:	20-43
A. Latin American Countries:	20
• Argentina
• Brazil
• Chile
• Mexico
B. Select Asian Markets:	24
• Indonesia
• Sri Lanka
• India
• Korea
• Malaysia
• Philippines
• Thailand
• Pakistan
• Hong Kong
• Japan
• Singapore
• Bangladesh
C. G-7 Countries:	37
• Australia
• Germany
• France
• USA
• UK
D. African Markets	43
• South Africa
2.3. Conclusion	44
References	45-47

	Page No.
Chapter III: Measuring Stock Markets Development	48-74
3.1. Introduction	48
3.2. Scope of the chapter	48
3.3. Data, Variables and Time period	50
3.4. Stock Market Development Index – a cross-country analysis	53
3.4.i. Simple Average Index	54
3.4.ii. Means-Removed Value Index	56
3.4.iii. Weighted Index	58
3.4.iv. Means-Removed Weighted Average Index	62
3.5. What makes the Difference? A Cross-country Analysis	64
3.6. Conclusion	68-70
References	71-74
Chapter IV: Stock markets, Banks and Economic growth	75-98
4.1. Introduction	75
4.2. Financial Intermediaries, Market and Economic Growth	76
4.3. Scope of the chapter	78
4.4. Data and Variables	78
4.5. Methodology	79
4.5.1. Stationarity of the Variables	80
4.5.2. Cointegration of the Variables	86
4.5.3. Granger-Causality of the Variables	90
4.6. Conclusion	93
References	94-98
Chapter V: Conclusion and Policy Implications	99-102
Select Bibliography	103-114