

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the commencement, I take the opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Manas Dasgupta, Professor, Department of Economics, North Bengal University, Raja Rammohunpur, Dist, Darjeeling, West Bengal, India, for providing me with an opportunity to work under his skilful guidance. He has been more than a guide to me. For his invaluable supervision at all stages, I have been able to complete this research work.

I have benefited from discussions with Prof. Indra Nath Mukherjee, Chairman, Centre for South, South-East and Central Asian Studies, SIS, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi ; Dr. N. Parthasarathi, Director (Research), Prof. G.N. Gandhi and Prof. A.K. Sengupta all in Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, New Delhi ; S.K.Mitra, Senior Advisor, Indian Investment Centre, Samsad Marg, New Delhi ; Tarun Das, Secretary, Ministry of Finance, Government of India, New Delhi; Dr. V.R.Panchmukhi, Director, Research and Information System (RIS) for Non-Alligned and other Developing countries, Lodi Estate, New Delhi ; Mr. S.Chakraborty, Deputy Manager(System), Directorate General of Commercial Intellegence and Statistics (DGCI & S), Government of India, Council House Street, Calcutta ; Dr. S.V.Hariharan, Reader, School of International Studies, Pondicherry University, Pondicherry ; Dr.Purushuttam

Bhattacharya, Reader, International Relations, Jadavpur University, Jadavpur, Calcutta and Director, Department of Analysis and Policy, Reserve Bank of India, Calcutta during my visit to the respective places and libraries. I am really grateful to them.

I give a special note of thanks and gratitude to Dr. Malay Kr. Roy, Head of the department of Commerce, Prof. K. Deb, Dr. Indrajit Roy and other faculty members of Com. and Eco. departments, North Bengal University for their invaluable suggestions and co-operation during my research work.

At the time of data collection at Kathmandu, Nepal, I have received priceless co-operation from SAARC Secretariate, National Planning Commission of HMG, Ministry of Finance and Ministry of Industries of HMG; Centre for Nepal and Asian Studies (CNAS), Tribhuban University and Centre for Economic Development and Administration (CEDA) of the same University. I am grateful to the authorities of these institutions.

My sincere acknowledgement to the authorities of Penden Cement Company, Gomtu, Bhutan; Hydrel Project, Chukha, Funtsholing Industrial Estate and Samchhi Fruit Processing Factory, Samchhi, Bhutan for providing me with various information relating to Indo-Bhutan joint collaboration during my visit to Bhutan.

In addition to the libraries mentioned above I give a sincere thanks to the librarians of National Library and Commercial Library, Calcutta, Library, Ministry of Commerce, Government of India, Udyog Bhaban, New Delhi ; Indian Council of Foreign Affairs, Sapru House, Barakhamba Road, New Delhi ; North Bengal University Library and Tufanganj College Library, Tufanganj, Coochbehar, West Bengal for providing me with all facilities to collect necessary materials for my research work.

Further, I give a special note of thanks to the University Grants Commission (UGC), New Delhi ; Dr. Krishna Nath Chatterji, Vice-Chancellor and Dr. Tapas Kr. Chatterji, Registrar of North Bengal University for providing me with financial assistance under the Faculty Improvement Programme (F.I.P.) of UGC and to the authorities of Tufanganj Mahavidyalaya, Tufanganj, Coochbehar (W.B.) for granting me Study Leave with full pay under the F.I.P. Scheme of UGC to complete my work.

Finally, I wish to thank Shri Pulendra Nath Adhikary, Accountant, Tufanganj Mahavidyalaya, Tufanganj, Coochbehar for clean-cut typing of this thesis.

Harigopal Mallick

HARIGOPAL MALLICK