

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, I must express my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor, Dr. Sushma Rohatgi for her patient, methodical and scholarly guidance in shaping my research imagination and seeking it through its conclusion and logical end. It was her keen interest in my work and sustained pressure, combined with love and affection that gave me rare incentive and momentum to carry on and complete this work.

I feel equally privileged to recall the genuine inspiration and elderly encouragement that I received from Dr. D. Chakraborty, Reader, Deptt. Of Political Science, University of North Bengal.

I am very much obliged to Dr. P. Rohatgi, Reader, Deptt. Of Geography, Calcutta University for her help and encouragement.

I take this opportunity to express my gratefulness to the Principal and Staff, Kalimpong College, for their love, affection, inspiration and constructive encouragement to me for the completion of this study.

I would like to express my indebtedness to the honorable ex-Vice Chancellor, University of North Bengal, Dr. P.K. Saha, present Vice-Chancellor, the Registrar, the Development Officer and other dignitaries of the University of North Bengal for providing me the opportunity to pursue this work.

I am also grateful to innumerable scholars and researchers whose path-breaking observation- published and unpublished referred to in this study helped me understand and analyze my research problem. Without their significant contributions it would not have been possible to complete this work.

I extend my thanks to the Librarian and staff of the Central Library, the University of North Bengal; National Library, Kolkata; the British Council Library, Kolkata; Census Library, Kolkata; District Library, Maldah, Central Library, Siliguri College and many other district libraries of North Bengal for making available the needed books, periodicals, journals and important materials with promptness and care.

The supportive love and care of my husband and all family members are particularly responsible for successful pursuit of my endeavors.

I would like to thank Mr. Gopal Ch. Mandal, Lecturer in Economics, Kalimpong College for his excellent advice and insightful comments during the course of thesis writing.

Above all, I am grateful to all the sample respondents, their family members and villagers of my survey area for receiving me in the midst with cordially and great warmth at the time of my field survey.
